

We know employers continue to face financial challenges during the Coronavirus pandemic, but more help is coming.

As a part of the end-of-year relief package, Congress passed changes to the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP), including creating a “second draw” program. This new program gives an additional round of PPP loans to eligible small businesses.

Congress also made changes to several other programs that benefit small businesses, including Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EIDL Program), the Employee Retention Tax Credit, a Venue Grant program, and SBA loan programs. Here, we’ve included some links and resources that can help you navigate all of these updates.
