

TRANSPARENCY AND NO SURPRISES ACT OBLIGATIONS OF GROUP HEALTH PLANS

This publication provides a high-level overview of important compliance requirements and effective dates under the Transparency in Coverage final rule, the No Surprises Act and related federal legislation.

BACKGROUND

Recent federal legislation imposed significant new compliance obligations upon group health plan sponsors. These laws are designed to achieve several important objectives. One goal is to enable participants to better evaluate healthcare options and make cost-conscious decisions. Another purpose is to reduce the potential for participants to receive unexpected bills for healthcare services. Over the long term, the laws are intended to create a more competitive healthcare marketplace that puts downward pressure on prices and thus lowers overall healthcare costs.

To achieve these objectives, the DOL, IRS and HHS first issued the Transparency in Coverage (TiC) final rule in October 2020.¹ This rule requires non-grandfathered group health plans to disclose certain data, such as in-network (INN) provider negotiated rates and historical out-of-network (OON) allowed amounts, to the public via machine-readable files posted to a website. Additionally, these plans must provide participants with personalized cost-sharing information for covered services via an online self-service tool. The rule has phased-in effective dates from 2022 to 2024.

Subsequently, Congress passed the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2021 (CAA) in December 2020. This stimulus relief measure incorporates patient protections and a variety of additional transparency and disclosure obligations that apply to group health plans (including grandfathered plans). Among other provisions, the CAA No Surprises Act (NSA) includes comprehensive surprise billing prohibitions.

On August 20, 2021, the DOL, IRS and HHS released FAQs regarding the implementation of various CAA provisions.² This guidance provided temporary enforcement relief with respect to specific CAA provisions pending the issuance of regulatory guidance. Subsequently, implementing regulations were proposed or issued regarding some CAA provisions, but the industry is awaiting further guidance. Nonetheless, many CAA requirements, including the No Surprises Act (NSA) surprise billing prohibitions, took effect for plan years beginning on or after January 1, 2022.

Accordingly, group health plan sponsors should ensure that they are consulting with their carriers or administrative service providers regarding implementing these new requirements by the applicable deadlines. Although plan sponsors are ultimately responsible for compliance, most will rely heavily upon third-party administrators to timely satisfy their obligations. So, plan sponsors should keep these new mandates in mind when negotiating service agreements and vendor contracts for upcoming plan years. They should also budget for potential additional costs of compliance. Employers should engage counsel for legal advice regarding the specific application of these laws to their group health plans and/or for assistance with related vendor contract negotiations.

This publication, presented in chart format, provides a high-level overview of important compliance requirements and effective dates under the recent federal legislation. References are provided for regulatory guidance issued as of the publication date; additional implementing guidance is expected.
